A double pane, also known as double-glazed or insulated glass, refers to a window or glass panel that consists of two layers of glass separated by a space filled with air or inert gas, such as argon. These layers are sealed together around the edges to create a single unit. What types of glass are available? Choose from clear and low-iron varieties of tempered or laminated glass in 1/8" (3 mm), 3/8" (10 mm), or 1/2" (12 mm) thicknesses. Custom glass available. Spacers are components used in insulating glass (IG) units. They are specifically designed to separate and maintain the distance between the two panes of glass in a double or triple glazed window. Why are double pane windows better than single pane? These layers are sealed together around the edges to create a single unit. Double pane windows provide better insulation compared to single pane windows because the trapped air or gas acts as a thermal barrier, reducing heat transfer between the inside and outside of a building.
